Gap Impact

Extending coverage is a sound investment for North Carolina by creating a healthier workforce and strengthening the state's economy. The Center for Health Policy Research estimates that bridging the coverage gap in NC would result in the following:

- Creation of more jobs
- Increase in state revenue
- Promotes business in the state

The Value

- Covering the uninsured means better premium value for North Carolinians with private health insurance by lowering costs for everyone.
- Providing health insurance coverage will help people gain access to the care they need, which improves health outcomes.
- A healthier North Carolina workforce strengthens the economic and social well-being of the state.

The Uninsured

- There are 1,390,000+ people in the state that do not have health insurance coverage. Of those that are uninsured the majority are working full time or part time jobs.
- In NC the uninsured work primarily in construction, food service, sales, and cleaning and maintenance jobs. They are also our veterans (12,000 in NC), farmers, volunteer fire fighters, fishermen, pastors, and small business owners.

The Issue of Access

- The problem is even greater for those with health conditions who don't receive regular treatment and care.
- Without the stability of health insurance, many access needed care through emergency rooms.
- They face potential greater complications from their conditions and higher mortality rates.

Access and CVD

- A recent pilot study from AHA in Multnomah County, Oregon found that health insurance expansion was associated with significant cardiac health benefits. After implementation of the ACA in the county, AHA found there was a 17% decrease in the incidence of Out-of-Hospital Cardiac Arrest (OHCA). AHA will continue to study larger populations.
- The uninsured with CVD experience poorer blood pressure control than their insured counterparts.
- Those who suffer a stroke experience greater neurological impairments, longer hospital stays and a 24-56% higher risk of death than the insured.
- A 12-year study of more than 7,000 Americans showed that individuals without health insurance, especially those with heart disease, stroke, high blood pressure or diabetes, experienced a dramatic improvement in health when they become eligible for Medicare coverage at age 65.

Insurance Gaps

- In North Carolina currently a coverage gap exists for more than 400,000 low-income individuals that have no affordable health insurance options available to them.
- Medicaid currently covers fewer than half of people in poverty.
- In NC there are nearly 12,000 low-income veterans without access to comprehensive health insurance coverage.

The Current Gap

Who is in the current coverage gap?

- 82% Adults with dependent children
- 48% People of Color
- 53% Females
- 66% In a working family
